

The Adventures of Superbaby – by Ruby Metcalfe

Chapter 1 – The Great Escape

When I was two years old, I was having a tantrum, so my Mum put me in my cot. When I had finished my tantrum, I had a brainwave. I worked out how to get out of my cot, and got out. I was very pleased with myself. My first great escape!

I sauntered into the sitting room and turned the TV on. But what was ON the TV is another chapter....

Chapter 2 – Learning

It was the Channel 4 News. I saw the headlines. ‘Today, Hamster Culumbo has made an amazing discovery! He has found a criminal that the most respected and trusted police in the world have been tracking for months!’ the reporter exclaimed.

I could see the hamster in the background. I translated his hamster language (I still don’t know how I did that), and found out that he wanted me to join him in his world. I walked up to the TV, ready to jump. But then I wasn’t sure.

Should I? Shouldn’t I?

Chapter 3 – A New World

I made up my mind. And jumped.

WHAM! It felt like I was doing a belly-flop. I landed right next to Hamster Culumbo. I was now super – I mean SUPERBABY! With a big ‘S’ on my vest. So we went off to save the world (and all beings in the solar system).

Writer’s Note: Superbaby now soars around the Solar System helping beings. So if you see a small baby with an ‘S’ on its babygrow, you know it’s SUPERBABY!

To be continued in the next story, ‘Superbaby saves Mars’